Recognised for "Simplicity and efficiency, seeking out every opportunity to automate"

Abhijit, I wanted to acknowledge the recent well-deserved recognition you received from Avirup - and add my own congratulations. Your work on the Spark unit testing process is a standout example of excellence in action. The precision, innovation and quality you've demonstrated here not only elevates the testing itself but also sets a benchmark for the team. Your technical expertise, drive to improve and commitment to doing things right make a real difference. Thank you for your outstanding contributions and keep up the fantastic work!
